Coolidge and Hoover Walking in Garden of Hope

CANDIDATE SHOWN AROUND WHITE HOUSE GROUNDS

President Coolidge and Herbert Hoover are seen here strolling about the presidential mansion when Mr. Hoover called on the President just before he started for his home in Palo Alto, Cal., to cast his vote on Tuesday.

BORAH SURE TO SPEAK TONIGHT AT THE ARENA

Following a conference at the Copley Plaza, Louis K. Liggett, Republican national committeeman, announced today that all misanderstandings with U. S. Senator William E. Borah had been ironed out, and the latter will speak at the Arena tonight as long as the audience will stay with him.

He said Senator Borah will begin his address at 10:30, and will be the only speaker, as R. Loring Young, candidate for U. S. Senate, is campaigning in another part of the State, and Frank G. Allen, candidate for governor, will be reviewing the parade.

On the way to the Arena, Liggett said, Senator Borah will stop at Mechanics hall to say "Hello" to the throng there, being introduced by William E. Youngman, candidate for lieutenant-governor. Robert M. Washburn will introduce the speaker at the Arena, and Francis Prescott, chairman of the State committee, will preside.

Liggett said that at both the Arena and Mechanics Hall the speech of Herbert Hoover will be broadcasted from St. Louis. He said the 2nd Network is keeping the air open for Hoover from 9 to 10:30, and that the Republican leader will begin speaking as soon as his train arrives, expected at 9 o'clock eastern standard time.

The national committeeman closed his conference with newsmen by predicting a victory for the entire Republican ticket in Massachusetts in excess of 10,000. He based his prediction on confidential reports and statistics which he has himself compiled.

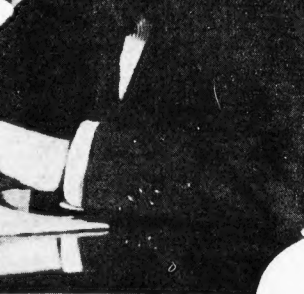

"Eagles" Do Fly

Miss Helen M. Roche gave four Boston College football stars a ride in her American Eagle at the airport. The Eagle stars and the Eagle planes hit it off in fine shape. The "Eagles" who flew are Jack Kennedy, Charlie Murphy, Donald Sheehan and Pete Herman.

SHARPENING HIS DARTS

Senator Borah, who is to speak tonight at the Arena in the interest of Herbert Hoover's candidacy, is shown putting the finishing touches on his speech in his room at the Copley-Plaza Hotel.

CHelsea 'PALS' EXPENSIVE

To gain friends in Chelsea is an extremely easy, but to hold them, well that costs money. That was the joint opinion of two visitors today at the local police station who called to register a protest against the expense of termination with the natives. Valentin Jerome, 42, married, laborer, of Front st., that city, sought the aid of the authorities to recover $110 which he alleged was stolen from him by a "friend" whom he accompanied to a house on Divinity st. for a card game and liquor.

A member of the coast guard, whose name the police refused to make public, also lodged a complaint charging his November payroll of $5 was taken from his pocket while riding in a Chelsea trolley with a "friend" he met in Chelsea st.

The sailor, increased by the attitude of the police toward his efforts to demand the Chelsea authorities aid him in the search for the thief.

FURNITURE MOVED OUT

The story of the abandonment of a young wife with her newborn child, characterized by poor department officials as the most cold blooded and cruel desertion they have encountered, was told in court today on the arraignment of Louis Dick, 25, of Highland ave., that city.

According to the story told Judge Reeve, Dick, enraged because his 21-year-old wife insisted on going to a hospital for the baby's arrival, moved out all the furniture from their home during her absence.

Returning from the hospital three days ago, Mrs. Dick found the home bare of food, furniture, light and heat, with the telephone wire cut. She was discovered in a semi-conscious condition on a bed of rage.

The 12-day-old child was found in a china closet. The discovery was made by Kenneth Ganes of 4 Stickney st., Lynn, an insurance salesman, who called to collect.

Mrs. Dick was huddled on a pallet in the bare diningroom, almost unconscious from lack of food and attention. The baby boy was in an equally bad way apparently having received no care since the mother arrived "home" three days ago.

Ganes immediately telephoned the poor department, and an investigator was sent. He told the court all furniture had been removed, together with all food and fuel, and that the lights were off and the telephone wire cut.

A warrant was obtained for Dick on a charge of non-support of his wife and minor child and the entire police department of Lynn was instructed to search for him.

Today he was arrested in a rooming house in Summer st. Police said his action was solely due to his wife's insistence on going to the hospital.

Representatives of the Poor Department assured Judge Reeve they were taking care of Mrs. Dick. The case was continued in Nov. 6, and Dick was held in $250.

Sees Adult as Bigger Problem Than Youth

"The big problem today is not how to reform the so-called 'flaming youth,' but how to wake up adult Americans to their misconception of the ideal for service which lies at the bottom of many novel rebellions of high school students," Cameron took, personnel director of the New York Stock Exchange, told the Essex County Teachers' convention today.

He spoke on "The Cost of Leadership" at Tremont Temple and stressed the importance of teachers taking their profession as a calling rather than as a job.

"When people talk to me of modern youth being uninterested I study those people. Nearly always I find the trouble is in the adult, not the youth, for my own experience as personnel director of the New York Stock Exchange has taught me that when the barriers of social status are removed the son of the millionaire gets right down to essentials of humanity in Wall st. the same as boys from the slums," Mr. Beck said.

We employ more high school boys than any other financial house in the world, and out of 4,000 boys the boys for higher education we have not lost one penny. Give youth a chance to work out its own salvation, but be a friend, not a critic."

The biggest thing that a teacher can do for youth is to instill a respect for integrity. Mr. Beck declared, since integrity alone is the best source of character in any career. Wall Street sees in times the temptations and complications of the modern youth that existed in the past generation, but Wall Street is not afraid of the leaders of tomorrow, whose success lies largely in their hands. I don't expect to speak a likely, sympathetic word to them, but I have never more than you dream in shaping their lives," he said.

NAB SAILOR IN HUB KILLING

Arriving today in port in the course of his wanderings over the seven seas, John J. Quinn, sailor in the merchant service, was surprised by the serving of a warrant charging him with manslaughter in the death of a man who has since been identified.

Quinn was recognized by Special Officer Mark Madson, whose duties take him frequently to the waterfront and who has kept the sailor's features in the forefront of his mind since July 31.

On that day, according to police, Quinn fought with a stranger in Commercial st. and knocked him down, causing injuries which proved fatal. Judge Murray today held him under $1000 bonds for a year.

MISS RUTH LYMAN
The debutante daughter of the Herbert Lyman, is an attractive member of this year's set.

Parents Tender Deb Daughter Dance at Country Club, Brookline

FRIDAY EVENING ARRIVES WITH A SPARKLE AND FLARE OF debutante protechnics. And the weekly influx of undergraduates across the river. Of course, there's a dance on the program. Friday has a sort of rivalry? And tonight's affair at the Country Club given by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bernard Prince for their daughter, Miss Justine, evidently is imbued with that subtle something which a "porcelain" time for the bad and her beaux, the sort of party where everyone outstays the music and home-going motors are not requisitioned until nearly dawn. Anticipation for tonight's hospitality pervades the Younger Set, and the usual round of dinners, showers and otherwise, accompany it.

THEIR'S NOTHING RESEMBLES ABOUT THE COUNTRY CLUB.
No striving for decorative effects or period elaborateness. Its sprawled-out rooms spell comfort but not richness. So girls in chiffons, velvets and moires drifting across the ballroom floor to symphonies quivers supply what's necessary of rainbow effect, and otherwise the prodigality of blossoms sent the debutante spread fragrance and color in bold strokes against a background that is, truth to tell, somewhat uninspired. Socially Miss Prince rides popularity's high wave—having both Junior League and Vincent Club memberships. The family lives in Dover, but in deference to the debutante's program there is a town abode, 65 Marlboro street.

TWO ARTISTIC TEMPERAMENTS AND ONE SMALL BABY.
comprising a household of three, might, to some, present certain problems of management. But to Mr. and Mrs. George Lyman Prince, Jr., and their small son "Michael," staid hours and the demands of the lord of the nursery are made to dovetail without the least sign of friction. Plutonic parades and artistic efforts are theirs. So naturally Mr. and Mrs. Prince gravitate to Paris, stronghold of the latest, making their honeymoon an extended residence abroad wherein to woo the muse. When finally they did come home to Boston they delighted and electrified friends and relatives with an exhibition, no less; a two-man show in the Horne gallery.

THEIR ARE THE ARTISTS AND THEIR BABY SON WITH THE INTERESTING NAME.
Nesting name are sharing a nursery-studio meadow and sailing along the high seas of artistic success in New York. Mrs. Prince was Miss Ruth Forbes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Emerson Forbes of Milton and John Malcolm Forbes, a young man with the title "Reverend" before his name. They do interesting things, all the Palmes and the Forbeses—and this season Mr. Forbes and his spouse (who was Miss Rabel Cummings) are buried far from urban excitement, engaged in social service work and reaching to the mountains in the South. Always rather inclined more seriously than frivolously, Mrs. Forbes was easily a leader back in bud days—and at Radcliffe first-married her senior class.

THERE IS A DEBUTANTE IN THE CUMMINGS FAMILY THIS season, Miss Margaret, who will have given for her one of the large halls of the winter. But even such an inducement is not sufficient to bring the Palmes from their mountain fastnesses. Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Cummings, parents to Mrs. Forbes and Miss Margaret, came up to their joy at home from the North Shore only a day or two ago—a move necessary if the debutante is to be within motoring distance of all those balls and parties it's the thing for the popular debutante to be seen at, if she would be considered in the swim.

STILL KEEPING TO THE PAINE FAMILY AND ITS RAMIFICATIONS. Mr. and Mrs. Brenton Paine, 54 (Helen Paine), followed the honeymoon trail across the sea, as the elegants are so fond of doing, and now are staying on indefinitely. The diversions of Paris, friends to visit in London, and sight to see generally about the Continent will keep the Paines lingering in for several months. Central Africa is probably not on their itinerary—although the Paine has the distinction of being an expert shot and of having troked into "British East" in real sportsmanlike manner, on the trail of big game.

THE BEACON ST. ESTABLISHMENT NUMBERED BY AWAYS. Robert F. Herrick, Jr., and Jan slumped, decked heads at the conclusion of their European honeymoon. Just about arriving are the Herricks, Jr., and if Mrs. Herrick does not become the toast of the town and high favorite in the Younger Married Set, then all prospects are without home. She was before her second marriage Mrs. Vincent Dahlgren Prince, related to Churchill and Adams and the great and near great of two continents. She questioned it socially in Washington, knew all the people who make New York so interesting artistically and fashionably, and 100 more less brought home from Europe a most itching wardrobe. She has an eye for effective adornment, has Mrs. Herrick.

WHEN PRETTY MISS ELLEN HALLOWELL COMES SAILING home from Europe late in November, it's possible, though not probable, that wedding plans for herself and Irving Pratt will have reached a certain state of definiteness although at the moment no nuptial day has been set. The N. Paine Hallowell, went abroad a few weeks ago, they belonging to the set that makes its foreign journey with spontaneity and frequency. Their third daughter, Miss Ellen Hallowell, went with them, and so did Miss Helen Moseley, daughter of the Frederick Strong Moseleys. Miss Hallowell stays on in Boston, devoted heart and soul to the business of the Junior League, smart as it is philanthropic, and so very much the heart and center of state feminine in Boston's Mayfair.

NORFOLK HUNT CLUBS FARMERS' DAY, SATURDAY, is an all-day horse show, pleasantly punctuated with luncheon and staid out to mid-afternoon with an exhibition of points on a drag hunt. Sentimental interest predominates in Class 10 and Class 11. The latter is for the club championship and the master's trophy, and for former for Mrs. Henry G. Vaughan's challenge bowl. All the Norfolk set will be out in its ragged, wondrous and its most perfectly tailored riding tops, choices governed of course by individual parts in the picture, whether riding or being the gallery. And Henry G. Vaughan, M. F. H., will be the picture's most inspiring figure.

NUN IN OREGON CASE ASKS FOR PRISON TERM

Medina City, Nov. 2 (AP)—Bishop Casper was installed today in the episcopate for the remainder of the term of John de Leon (Toral) and Juan Munoz (Cordero) in connection with the assassination of President Francisco I. Madero in 1911.

The nun is accused of being a accomplice. The trial is unusual, in that generally the accused are of some high in politics are tried by military rather than civil courts.

PENALTY 20 YEARS.

The mother's conviction asked the prosecuting attorney to do his utmost to have her sentenced to prison because this would enable her to devote herself to spiritual work among the women convicts at the penitentiary. The maximum penalty on her case is 20 years in Texas state prison.

A thousand persons asked to be admitted to today's proceedings at the courthouses of San Angelo, not far from where the slaying took place. The courtroom seats 100; 50 more can wedge their way in. Admission was only by ticket.

JURORS DRAWN.

Twelve names were drawn from a list of 100 men. Nine jurors from there to try the youthful couple.

Also in the judge's bench and facing the jury set aside for the day. Defendants was a picture of Oregon. "I am ready for anything," Toral said.

Then as he spoke of the possibility that his crime might be considered political and that death would not be his punishment, his eyes shone with hope.

VANDERBILT KIN ENDS HIS LIFE AFTER OPERA

New York, Nov. 2 (AP)—After viewing a production of Wagner's opera, "Lohengrin," at the Metropolitan, Ned Vanderbilt, 21, great grandson of William H. Vanderbilt, shot and killed himself at his parents' home.

A typewritten note pinned between the leaves of a diary gave the only clue to the suicide motive.

"I read: 'Lohengrin wasn't brave enough to stick it out. But I have the courage to do it. This is the last entry.'

The body was discovered by a lock-smith called to remove the lock on the door of his apartment after his absence had alarmed the neighbors.

He was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Vanderbilt, the father being a lawyer and president in financial circles. The mother was the former Alice Vanderbilt Shepard.

Young Mr. Vanderbilt had attended the opera on Wednesday night. What connection the story of Lohengrin could have had with his life is a mystery. The opera is in essence an allegory depicting the evils of earthly love as contrasted to the sweetness of love embodied by a spiritual knight.

MILK AS USUAL FROM PLANT HIT BY FIRE

In less than 24 hours after the fire in the Somerset plant of the New England Creamery Products Company, a rapid reorganization of their milk handling system now permits them to make their usual deliveries. The milk comes from the same superior sources as ever and is bottled at their Milwaukie Farms.

plant at Framingham under the strictest hygienic conditions. There will be no interruption in service or delivery of Noddy's "What's Good Milk" from Cape Ann, throughout metropolitan Boston and north to four counties.

ROOSEVELT, OTTINGER TURN TO STATE ISSUES
New York, Nov. 2.—(AP)—The most intense state campaign in New York, between Governor Roosevelt and the Democratic challenger, Alfred Ottinger, turned today to state issues, after the two candidates had agreed to a large extent to drop all issues and national questions for the time being.

INDIANA IN DOUBTFUL

For months with Senator Robinson in doubt as to the result of the election in Indiana, Robinson today announced that the last of his constituents, the voters of the state, had voted for him.

AL SMITH GIVEN WILD OVATION IN NEW YORK

From the headquarters of the Al Smith campaign, it was learned today that the ovation given to the former governor in New York was the most enthusiastic since his first election in 1918. The ovation was given in the city of New York, where Smith had been elected to the governorship in 1918. Election Plane to Use Red, Green Lights

GREEN lights if Smith leads Red lights if Hoover is ahead.
Red and green if the race is even.

These are the signals, trailing graphically the story of the election, which the Boston American airplane will carry Tuesday night, flying above Boston and its environs, over a 50-mile radius.

Democrats Borrow Second $500,000 for Campaign

Washington, Nov. 2. (AP)—Nailed by a second $500,000 loan, the Democratic national committee's campaign fund crossed the $1,000,000 mark on October 31, reports filed with the House Campaign Funds Committee today revealed.

The second $500,000 loan was made through the First Trust company of New York on October 31, a payment $200,000 was an amount through the same institution on October 31. A balance of $37,914.61 remained in the treasury October 31.

When the loan was made to City Hall, the loan was made to the city of New York, where Smith had been elected to the governorship in 1918. AMERICAN WILL GIVE RETURNS

Should the race be neck and neck as the hours fly, there will be a red light on one wing and a green light on the other.

Meantime in Washington, the Democratic campaign headquarters will be busy with the race as the radio and the screen will give the graphic details of the race as it unfolds at the voting booths all over the land.

A huge canvas will be spread on the wall of a building in the square, which is large enough to accommodate hundreds, without crushing, for the showing of national and custom figures.

MADE CHAPLAIN OF PRISON

Rev. W. W. Farrell, assistant chaplain of St. Michael's, has been appointed chaplain of the State Prison, where he will succeed the late Rev. J. J. Connelley. The appointment was made by the board of trustees of the prison, which met last night. Mr. Farrell, who is a native of this city, has been in the ministry for many years. He is a member of the St. Michael's church and has been assistant chaplain of that church for several years. He is also a member of the board of trustees of the prison. He will take up his duties at the prison next Wednesday.

Pays 100,000 Pounds For Picture By Reynolds

London, Nov. 2 (AP)—The Express says that Sir Joshua Reynolds' famous full length portrait of Lady Betty Compton has been sold to an American dealer, who has resold it to an unnamed American collector.

It is said Lord Chesham, former owner of the picture, was paid more than 100,000 pounds sterling for it, by far the highest price that any of the Reynolds' works has commanded heretofore.

LIGHT EATING AIDS BEAUTY, SAYS EDNA
By EDNA WALLACE HOPPER
The average person has been taught with some degree of care in regard to proper foods and has a fair start on the road to health, beauty and happiness. As soon as one gets into the habit of self-will, however, the surreptitious consumption of candy and other "forbidden fruits" set in, but unfortunately it seldom is fruit.

$20,000 Benefit
New Money Record
E. Mack Did It

Show Cost Plenty
Argonne Paid
Eddie Is "Right"

By NICK FLATLEY

BURKE BENEFIT SETS MONEY RECORD

EDDIE MACK, through his Argonne Club, turns over something like $20,000 to the family of Mike Burke, late police inspector. This proves that, way down beneath, the boxing crowd is 100 per cent right.

The Burke benefit was the most successful show ever staged in these parts. The receipts ran away from anything of the kind that has been recorded. That $20,000 tells a greater story than we could write with a million words.

This benefit was a wonderful affair. And the credit, apart from the great lure of Mike's memory, belongs to Eddie Mack. The Top Sergeant of the Argonne Club cut loose with everything to make the show a success.

He turned over his office staff and his matchmaking ability. He signed up every fighter on the card. He passed up a couple of chances to make a few thousands for himself. Not a box on the long list was paid a penny. Eddie didn't put in a bill for anything.

This stunt of his hoisted him right up with the leading philanthropists. Any time the Top Sergeant wants anything, we're here to help him get it. Lots of the boys orate about their big-heartedness, but when the pinch comes, they have this and that to charge up.

Eddie and his crowd didn't charge a cent. They made the fighters fight for fun, which is a glorious accomplishment all by itself. The Burke benefit can be held up as something for all the charitable and philanthropic crowds to shoot at.

WHAT A BENEFIT E. MACK WILL DESERVE IF HIS SPAN OF LIFE HAPPENS TO BE CUT SHORT ANY ONE OF THESE DAYS.

Eddie, like everybody else regular, is one of the ardent workers for the Sunday sports petition. Looks like that one couldn't lose.

THE NEW GARDEN MAY FLOP, BUT E. MACK WILL GO ON FOREVER.

Nobody knows and nobody seems to care who will be the next master of the ropes. A club that is down to eleven out-

Hornsby Deal to Be Made Public Soon

Chicago, Nov. 2 (AP)—President W. L. Veech of the Chicago Cubs indicated today that the status of Rogers Hornsby's 1923 baseball agreement probably would be settled next week.

While refusing to admit that negotiations were under way for the purchase of the Braves' manager and second baseman, President Veech yesterday hinted that there would be a definite announcement within 10 days.

"There is nothing new on the Hornsby situation today," he said. "The deal will probably be settled next week."

The deal is being handled by the best of the best in the baseball business.

Evening American Has Great Football Extra

Every Saturday afternoon since the start of the current football season has seen the Boston Evening American on the streets with the most complete accounts of the big football games of the day and much more than any of its rivals.

Tomorrow's Boston Evening American football extra will be the greatest yet. There will be a play-by-play account of six big Eastern games, six kickers on the Yale-Harvard mouth control and final scores of close to half a hundred other games. The games which will be told play by play are as follows:

Harvard vs. Lehigh at the Stadium.

Yale vs. Dartmouth at New Haven.

Harvard vs. Holy Cross at Providence.

Many Suggestions for New Arena NameBy MYLES T. McSWEENEY
Although it was announced in these pages that there would be no prize offered for naming the new North Station arena, and although the names suggested are unofficial, many of the readers of this paper present so much the calling of the new arena "Boston's Madison Square Garden," that they have taken the time and trouble to write in what they believe would be a fitting name for this new sport arena.

OFFERING LEADS AGAINST A SUIT DECLARATION

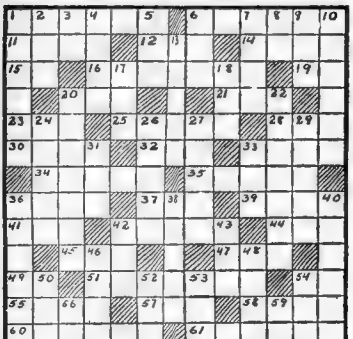

When next to the opening special situation referred to in the lead from an Ace suit which is the command of the Ace in case such suit contains no other honor is the opening unfortunate, and higher than the 10. Such a suit is also possible to pick up an additional both the Ace and an honor high at trick not possible if the Ace is or than the 10 are also the worst led, and not probable with any other suit to open that can be involved opening.

And are placed last in the table of leads. And even without such high honor, it will be noted that the complete establishment of the suit is in Dummey.

Not as a general principle should an Ace be opened especially a holding four or five cards of the suit. With a 10 or 11 card suit, it is most advisable to lead the most of value of a suit, and the opening of the suit is left to the declarer to choose. Even then the suit is not to be opened with a 10 or 11 card suit, and the declarer should be left to choose. The idea of the opening of the suit is to be left to the declarer to choose.
